

Teething Gel

Don't be afraid of those little teeth!

Cutting their first teeth...

...often means a disturbed time for babies. Teething rarely causes real problems, but even irritated gums can affect your baby significantly. Baby may be more restless, crotchety, cry more and sleep poorly. In addition, you may observe a loss of appetite.

The first teeth emerge, but without disturbance.

CaldeBaby Teething Gel allows you to help your child: gently massage your baby's gums 2 to 3 times a day with the teething gel bought in your pharmacy. The best times are after meals and before sleeping. CaldeBaby Teething Gel cools and soothes irritated gums and provides gentle care of the baby's mouth. In addition, it is sugar-free and has a pleasant honey flavour.

Application:

Gently massage a pea-sized dab of gel onto the gum using a clean finger or a cotton bud when needed. Always read the label and package leaflet before use.
